

BDMS Wellness Clinic in Collaboration with Mövenpick Hotels & Resorts to develop International Level of Wellness Resort in the Heart of Bangkok

BDMS Wellness Clinic signed a joint venture contract with Mövenpick Hotels & Resorts management team on August 22nd, 2018 to launch Mövenpick BDMS Wellness Resort Bangkok, a healthcare resort located in the heart of Bangkok along Wireless road. It is scheduled to commence operations in early 2019.

The resort is located in an oasis of lush landscaped gardens in the heart of Bangkok and consists of 294 guest rooms with full resort and convention facilities. The Nailert Park Hotel was originally opened in 1984, and acquired by BDMS in end 2016, to be developed into international standard wellness destination. The resort restaurants will serve both local and international cuisines, with healthy selection of organic food and health-conscious menu. There will also be in-house personalized wellness program, develop to promote prevention and lifestyle improvement.

Dr. Poramaporn Prasarttong-Osoth, President of BDMS Wellness Clinic says, "We are excited to work with Moevenpick to introduce a Wellness Resort with world-class hospitality as well as specialised in-house wellness programmes that are designed for prevention and the achievement of a healthy lifestyle."

BDMS foresees a global health megatrend towards preventive and regenerative medicine due to a rapidly aging global population. This is particularly true in Thailand, and BDMS sees this as a great opportunity to initiate the BDMS Wellness Clinic to focus on innovative ways to prevent age-related diseases.

Andrew Langdon, chief development officer for Mövenpick Hotels & Resorts, said: “Opportunities to manage legendary hotels do not arise often, and we’re delighted to bring Mövenpick’s signature style to the Nai Lert Park Hotel, which has been a Bangkok landmark for more than three decades.

“We look forward to moving this captivating property into an exciting new era as we introduce a health-conscious generation of guests to Mövenpick BDMS Wellness Resort Bangkok and further provide world-class wellness facilities in association with the adjoining BDMS Wellness Clinic.”
